A rich new volume in Judson Press's best-selling "Star Book" series for ministers! Pastor and author Clifford Jones has compiled a rich collection of practical and biblical resources for church leaders who want to make stewardship a vital part of congregational life and discipleship. The new volume features sections on stewardship in the Old and New Testaments, content for the preaching and teaching ministries, and materials for the worship service. Also included are basic training guidelines for saving, reducing debt, estate planning, and even introducing financial principles to children and youth! A final section addresses the topics of financial transparency and accountability for leaders, a pastoral response to poverty, and giving as a spiritual discipline.
